Hardships Mounting For Business, People

By The Associated Press
More than 18 million pieces of undelivered mail have caused inconvenience for millions, personal hardship for some and serious disruption for many businesses.

Pensioners Hurt
In areas affected by the strike, many persons dependent on pension or welfare payments which they normally receive through the mail were worried. Anxiety spread among others—including wives of servicemen in Vietnam—who waited for letters from distant relatives.

Mounting hardships were described by many in the business, financial and industrial communities. Some members of the garment industry said undelivered mail orders for Easter clothing could cause business failure.

Miserable Mess
"It's a miserable mess," said a corporation executive who had been frustrated in attempts to get mail from his strike-bound New York office.

The Wall Street financial community in New York was hard hit as trading volume fell, dipping to 7.91 million shares Friday on the New York Stock Exchange, lowest since Dec. 26. However the New York and the American stock exchanges and the over-the-counter securities market said they planned to remain open.

Business Entangled
Business leaders said the backlog of undelivered commercial mail would take days and possibly weeks to unravel. They said some financial transactions had become entangled.

Some political and business leaders called for leniency for persons who fall behind on installment payments because of the mail stoppage.

A Chase Manhattan Bank spokesman in New York said that few, if any penalties would be assessed against those who fall behind on payments.

No Insurance Fees
In Indianapolis, the Travelers Insurance Co. and Travelers Indemnity Co. of Indianapolis said that policyholders unable to make payments on premiums due would not be penalized "for a reasonable period of time."

In Washington, the Federal Reserve Board announced that money would be provided for member banks to make short-term loans to businesses seriously damaged by the strike.

Judge Backers 'Slip' Showing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators opposing Judge G. Harrold Carswell say they may be with- in three votes of defeating President Nixon's Supreme Court nominee and, after a week of debate, Republican backers privately concede their strength is slipping.

Opponents say they can count 39 firm votes against Senate confirmation of the Florida jurist, with an additional nine senators leaning toward "no" votes.

Administration forces, meanwhile, have abandoned the confident prediction only a few more than 30 senators at most would vote against Carswell's confirmation, and now reportedly would be happy if 57 senators vote for him.

Although the outlook appears rosy for Carswell opponents, a leader, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said Friday he is not ready to predict victory.

While the struggle for commitments was going on behind the scenes, two senators declared themselves Friday, one for and one against, leaving the count of those publicly announced still heavily in favor of the 50-year-old federal appeals judge. Thirty-nine senators say they favor confirmation and 24 are against.

With time seeming to favor the opposition, it became clear the earliest possible date for a vote would be April 6.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said it would be impossible to take a vote before the long Easter weekend begins next Thursday.

GI Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department reported Friday that Army Sgt. Alexander F. Potas, husband of Mrs. Jeanette P. Potas of Detroit, was among 18 men listed as killed in action in the latest casualty list from the Vietnam War.

State PO Setup Confused

By The Associated Press

Mail service was paralyzed in the Detroit area today as a wave of wildcat strikes spread to more Post Office facilities. Elsewhere in Michigan, a walkout of mail carriers continued at East Lansing, but other cities reported normal work crews being maintained.

A spokesman for the Detroit Post Office said a request had been submitted to Chicago regional headquarters for a nationwide embargo to be placed on all mail destined for Detroit. Action on the request may not be taken until Monday, he said.

New walkouts were reported at Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Mount Clemens, St. Clair Shores, Warren and Royal Oak, which serves 54 communities in the suburban Detroit area.

Meanwhile, Detroit residents were asked not to deposit mail or to go to substations to pick up mail because of the picketing.

At Detroit's general Post Office facility, pickets moved tractor-trailer rigs against loading docks to prevent their use and drivers refused to cross the picket lines.

The postal crisis resulted in Detroit Recorder's Court holding up the mailing of 200 child support checks Friday. Officials said they could be picked up at the court building Monday through Friday.

The postal strikes spread despite a statement by Peter Romanelli, vice president of the Detroit local of the letter carriers union, that he expected his members to respond to a plea by national union leaders to return to work while negotiations resume for a wage increase.

In Battle Creek, a spokesman for the Defense Logistics Service Center said it is notifying customers on its national mailing list that national sealed bid and spot bid sales will be delayed 21 days from the original date due to the mail disruption.

'No Ransom' Policy May End Kidnapings In Foreign Countries

LIMA, Peru, (AP) — A number of American diplomats in South America have asked the State Department to adopt a "no ransom" policy as a means of choking off the growing wave of terrorist kidnappings.

"It's high time we let the extremists know their political blackmail will not work and that we told our host governments there is to be no ransom," an American diplomat in La Paz, Bolivia, said last week.

Some May Die
On the other hand, a diplomat in Lima said, "We'd probably lose a couple of guys, dead and buried, before we convinced anyone we really meant no more ransom."

"There is a distinct movement out here in the field for a 'no more ransom' declaration," another high-ranking diplomat said.

"There is even some conviction in the (State) Department that we're expendable," the officer said. "But that's hard to sell to a wife with five children. Furthermore, American public opinion might not permit it."

"We could also expect a certain number of resignations if such a policy were adopted," the diplomat said, adding "but I feel the majority of foreign service officers would back the idea if it meant stopping the kidnappings."

One of the more notable cases was the kidnapping last September of U.S. Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick in Rio De Janeiro. He was held for several days until the Brazilian government sent 15 leftist prisoners on a special air force flight to freedom in Mexico.

Past Kidnapings
On Feb. 27, Guatemalan Foreign Minister Alberto Fuentes Mohr was kidnapped by the Rebel Armed Forces FAR group and released in exchange for freedom of a young FAR member.

On March 6, armed masked FAR members kidnaped Sean M. Holly, labor attaché of the U.S. Embassy in Guatemala. They obtained the release of three imprisoned guerrillas in return for Holly's safety.

Six days later, in Sao Paulo, terrorists armed with machine guns kidnaped Nobuo Okuchi, Japanese consul general, and won freedom for five political prisoners.

Policies Re-Examined
The State Department is known to be re-examining its policies on kidnappings.

Guatemala and Brazil are receiving special attention, but

Picket Lines Noted In Scattered Areas

NEW YORK (AP) — About 6,000 city mailmen voted almost unanimously today to stay on strike, defying a back-to-work agreement reached by their union leaders and the Nixon administration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional walkouts by mail carriers began today as pickets lined post offices in scattered cities in defiance of back-to-work pleas by union leaders and the administration's agreement to discuss wage demands.

About 40 pickets appeared at the front entrance to the main post office in Chicago—the nation's largest—after the local union voted to strike. The picketing began as the first shift of carriers was scheduled to report for work.

At the same time, picketing was scheduled to begin in 72 of Chicago's post offices.

In Denver, workers also voted not to report for work beginning with today's first shift and, in Pittsburgh, picketing of the main post office began at 5 a.m., EST.

In Detroit, however, officers of the local union voted unanimously Friday night to return all employees to work as soon as possible. A wildcat strike had closed 22 of that city's 33 substations.

Accord Shattered

In Washington a seeming accord to halt the spreading walkouts pending negotiations was reached Friday by postal union leaders and the administration. The accord was shattered when the Chicago workers voted to strike.

Postal units in Cleveland, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, San Francisco, and four Los Angeles suburbs followed suit, voting either to continue walkouts already in effect or initiate new ones.

In New York, where the first strike began last Wednesday, postal workers scheduled a vote today on whether to continue the work stoppage.

However, mail carriers in New Brunswick, N.J., withdrew picket lines to let other postal workers go back to their jobs pending a vote on whether to continue their strike.

Plea Ignored
Shouts of "strike, strike" greeted Chicago union leaders' attempts to relate Friday's meetings with Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

Then 5,000 members of Chicago's Branch 11 of the National Association of Letter Carriers voted to strike at 12:01 a.m. today, but more than an hour after the deadline there were no picket lines and postal officials said mail was being processed normally.

In Minneapolis, picket lines went up around the Post Office at midnight, shortly after the strike vote was taken.

Foresees Accord
Even while the apparent upsurge in strike sentiment was being recorded, Blount released this statement after meeting with presidents of the seven postal unions:

"I remain convinced that the vast majority of postal workers are loyal, dedicated citizens. I feel certain that they will accept in good faith their national officers' plea that they return to work at once, so that meaningful negotiations can commence."

James H. Rademacher, president of the largest postal union, the Letter Carriers, said he was confident of a settlement within the five-day deadline imposed by the unions and complimented the administration "for recognizing the problem and working quickly to get settled."

Student Gets Lesson

AFTER THE REGENTS at the University of Michigan failed to meet student demands, students occupied the administration building and were forcibly ejected by Ann Arbor police. This picture shows police grounding a demonstrator as a crowd of 500 students was chased after several policemen were pelted with rocks. Three students were arrested. (AP Wirephoto)

His Engine 'Purred'

JACK EGBERTS of Kalamazoo thought he heard a strange purr in his engine and drove into a local gas station to see what the trouble was. A white cat, which apparently rode 20 miles atop the differential housing, had a fast ride as Egberts traveled at speeds up to 65 miles per hour. Egberts said it was a neighborhood cat that hung around but said, "It was the first time it came along for the ride."

Cheng Heng Sworn In As Cambodia Chief Of State

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Troops with fixed bayonets lined the streets in Cambodia's capital today, as the new three-man leadership made its first public appearance at the National Assembly.

Cheng Heng was sworn in as provisional chief of state, replacing Prince Norodom Sihanouk who was ousted in a bloodless coup last Wednesday. Vice Premier Sisvath Sirik Matak, considered the real power behind the coup, and Defense Minister Gen. Lon Nol stood at his sides.

Lon Nol said later in a broadcast to the nation that the government planned to "safeguard our independence within our present borders."

He said in reference to Sihanouk: "Any act or plot of the prince detrimental to Cambodia will be condemned as treason." All foreign legation in Phnom Penh have been advised the action in deposing Sihanouk was legal, he added.

Sihanouk, who was ousted while in Moscow, was quoted in Peking as calling for a referendum and urging foreign governments not to recognize the forces which deposed him.

Sihanouk had interrupted a vacation in France to fly to Moscow and Peking in hopes of getting Soviet and Chinese leaders to help persuade Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces to reduce their military presence in Cambodia.

Matak's government continued to consolidate its position.

In its latest move, the government ousted Foreign Minister Norodom Purisara, a distant cousin of Sihanouk. He was replaced by Yem Sameaur, who also holds the portfolios of jus-

C&NW Moves A Mountain

By CLINT DUNATHAN

It takes more than faith to move a mountain, and if you don't believe it ask the Chicago & North Western Railway.

The C&NW, chief handler of iron ore in Northern Michigan, has had its problems since the new $16.5 million ore terminal was constructed. These have all been reported and hopefully are being resolved.

Right now, however, the emphasis is on being ready for the arrival of that first boat and the beginning of the second season of ore loading operations.

• The first ore boat is expected to be the L. E. Block, which will arrive here (according to tentative scheduling) on Monday, March 30, says Paul Schilling, assistant ore superintendent of the C&NW.

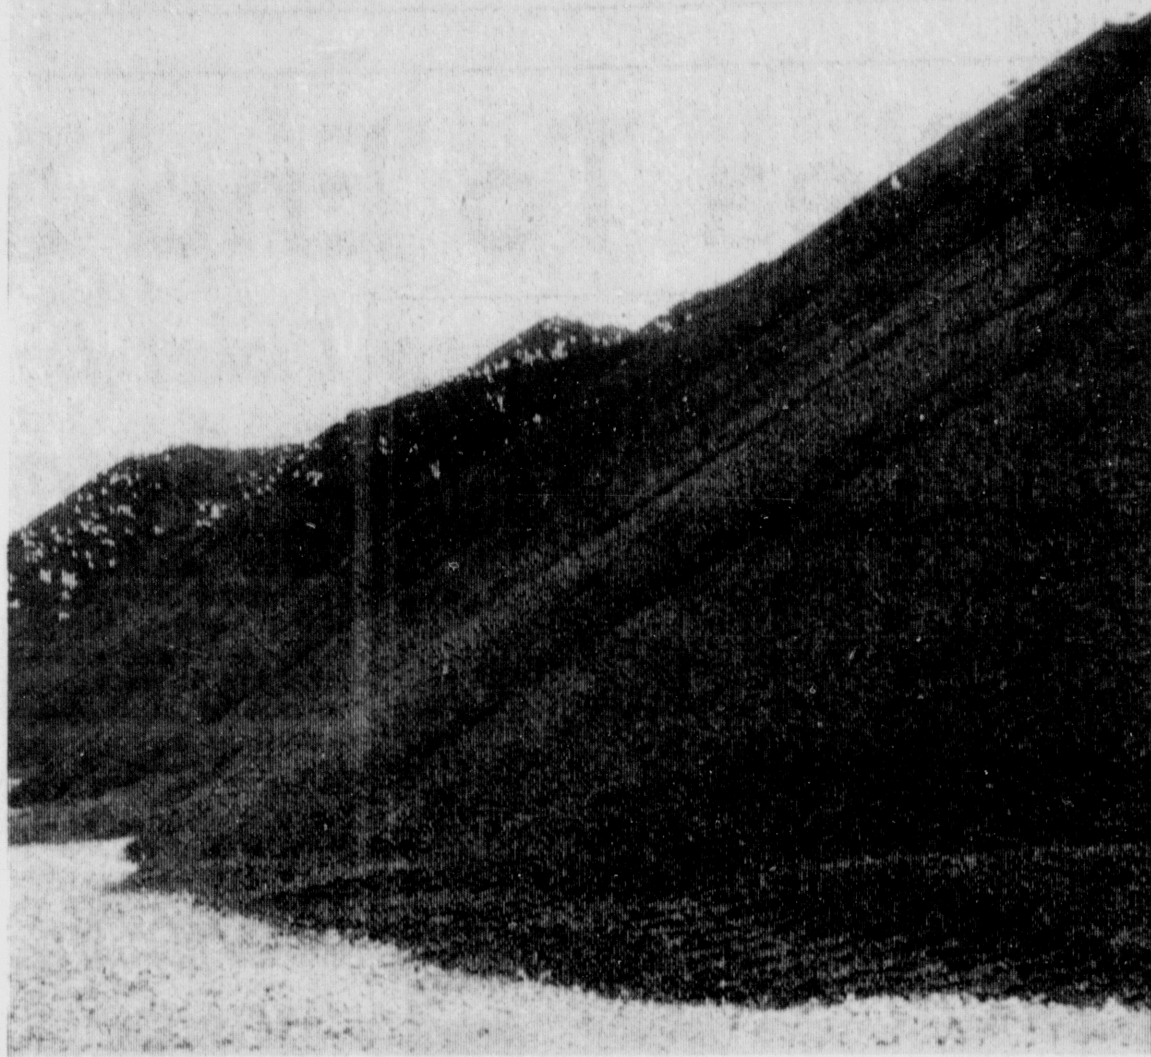

• The goal for 1970 at Escanaba is 10 million tons, about 3 million above 1969. Based on last year's experience the North Western is confident it can be done.

• Plus factor this year is the more than 2 million tons of ore in stockpile at Escanaba, all ready to be moved to the conveyor and loaded into the boats.

Schilling emphasized the March 30 date for the arrival of the 596-foot L. E. Block is subject to change. "It looks like the Block and it looks like the 30th," said Schilling.

At the close of last year Schilling said the North Western was hopeful it could move 10 million tons of ore from Escanaba this year. Today he confirmed this goal:

"We are still looking forward to that 10 million ton figure for 1970," he said. "With the problem we had at early season last year there was very little ore moved for several weeks — and yet we hit nearly 7 million tons before the season ended."

MORE THAN 2 MILLION TONS of iron ore are stockpiled at the Chicago & North Western Railway's ore terminal in Escanaba, headstart for the 1970 shipping season. Opening of navigation is scheduled next week with arrival of Coast Guard icebreakers, followed by vessels of the Great Lakes ore fleet. The stockpiled ore — plus direct ore loading — will go into the boats. (Daily Press Photo)

The total for last year was 6,899,568 tons to be exact. That was a record year for the North Western, which has been loading ore at Escanaba for 105 years. The previous record was about 6½ million tons.

The mountain of ore — more than 2 million tons of it — now stockpiled on the north shore will be reduced as the shipping season advances. The ore plus direct shipment ore from the mines will be loaded — and the stockpile will be replenished again next winter for the 1971 season.

Where will the additional 3 million tons of ore come from? Largely in pellets from the mines on the Marquette range.

C&NW Studies Proposal To Sell To Its Employees

A proposal to sell the Chicago & North Western Railway to its 14,000 employees is receiving serious consideration from senior executives, a C&NW spokesman said Friday.

Northwest Industries, Inc., present owner of the railroad, has been searching for a buyer since a four way merger plan fell through because of regulatory proceeding and infighting among the carriers.

A North Western official said the sale to employees probably would require no immediate cash but would require the new owners to assume the railroad's $340 million debt.

The North Western, which had a profit of $26 million as late as 1966, showed a 1969 loss of $15 million.

The plan under consideration calls for formation of a new corporation to purchase the road's assets and sell stock to employees on the basis of their annual salary, a spokesman said.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bittner and daughter, Joann, have returned to Selma, Calif. after attending the wedding of their daughter, Doreen. While here they stayed at the home of Mrs. Bittner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Marenger of Cornell.

While here a get-together was held in their honor March 15 at the VFW Hall in Escanaba. Over 75 relatives and friends attended. Games were played and lunch and refreshments were served.

Seney

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson visited with relatives at Mass over the weekend.

Hospital Auxiliary

The Seney-Germfask members of the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edna Skarritt and made Easter favors for the Medicare patients. Attending were the Mesdames: Edna Skarritt, Mae Lawrence, Betty Hartman, Betty Krause, Christine Peters, Maxine Heath, Mae Hutt, Hulda Riordan and Pearl Smith.

Salmon Report:

Coho Program Had Two Main Goals

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Some citizens recently have been extremely critical of the coho salmon program initiated in the area in 1968. Before the program was initiated, a number of local organizations, agencies and individuals worked long and hard and in good faith to bring coho salmon to Little Bay de Noc. In a series of articles written by Cliff Long, district fish biologist, he presents a report on the development of the program to date and its potential for the future.)

BY CLIFF LONG
District DNR Fish Biologist
(First Of A Series)

The introduction of coho into streams tributary to the Great Lakes had two main objectives. First, it was intended to convert a low value nuisance fish into a high value game fish to create a sport fishery and stimulate the economy of tourism oriented communities.

Second, it was designed to effect a control over the alewife population which had built up to the point where they comprised over 90 per cent of the total fish population of Lake Michigan. Their dead bodies washing up on the beaches were creating an intolerable nuisance and threatened the economy of those shore communities which depended upon tourism for their livelihood.

After careful screening of every available species, the coho salmon had been selected as the one most likely to accomplish these objectives.

Plants were made in three streams in 1966 and the results had clearly indicated that the coho salmon could do the job even more effectively than the most optimistic biologists had hoped. By summer of 1967 it was apparent to program planners that expansion of the program could begin in 1968, one year ahead of schedule.

Requests Pour In
Requests for coho salmon were coming in from commu-

ities all around Michigan's Great Lakes shoreline and from neighboring states. Though the means for expansion were at hand, those means were limited and not all requests could be honored.

Besides, biologists and others close to the program recognized that though the project was a huge success, it was not without its problems and that expansion would have to proceed with caution, careful planning and precise controls. Criteria for selection of expansion sites were drawn up, all possible sites were carefully screened and necessary controls were defined.

The Delta County, Bays de Noc area was one among the many communities requesting coho salmon introductions. Petitions, resolutions and requests for coho introductions were submitted from this area by governing bodies, public agencies, citizens organizations and individuals.

One group of public spirited citizens dedicated to the promotion of tourism and outdoor recreation for the community generously pledged a sufficient amount of money to hatch and rear coho in a local private hatchery for planting in this area if the Department of Natural Resources would agree to provide the necessary number of eggs.

The Department, cognizant of the need for precise controls to help solve inherent problems found it necessary to decline this generous offer with regret.

Bay Selected
After careful screening, the Little Bay de Noc area emerged as one of the sites for expansion of the coho program. Factors influencing its selection were (1) need for alewife control; (2) nearness to centers of population and distance from existing or proposed salmon fisheries; (3) availability of boat launching facilities, restaurants, accommodations and campgrounds; (4) tourism orientation; (5) local support;

(6) existence of protected bay for development of an open water fishery with good harbor facilities, and (7) availability of a stream with characteristics suitable for salmon and large enough to provide stream fishing opportunities. Not the least of these was local support as evidenced by community action.

Clergy Counsels Prep Students

MARQUETTE—"The House," a counseling center sponsored by Protestant and Catholic clergymen for Marquette Senior High School students, has won good marks for its first semester of operation.

The appraisal — "very successful" — was made this week in the first report on the House's operation, which began at the beginning of the fall term last September.

The counseling center is sponsored by the Marquette Clergy Council, comprised of clergymen of all Christian faiths. It is supported through volunteer funds.

Largest In U.P.
Father Terry Villaire, a Catholic priest, is assigned to the House as resident clergyman. Counseling also is provided by the Rev. Robert Dobson of the First Methodist Church; the Rev. Fred Gustafson, a Lutheran chaplain at Northern Michigan University; Father William Greer of St. Paul's Episcopal Church and the Rev. Richard Robinson, a Baptist chaplain at NMU.

The Clergy Council became interested in the program after the city's only Catholic high school, Bishop Baraga High, closed last May. With the influx of Catholic pupils increasing the senior high school's enrollment to 2,000, it was thought that it would be impossible for the school's six counselors to handle the needs of all students. Marquette Senior High is the largest in Upper Michigan.

Also, it was noted, most of the school counselors are concerned primarily with disciplinary problems.

Neutral Ground
The center was established in a house a block from the high school that the clergy council purchased. Donors helped furnish it. Students earned funds through dances and other projects to provide equipment.

The students must seek the counseling themselves. The clergymen feel this "neutral ground" benefits the counseling process. And more often than not, Villaire said, neither the student nor the counselor knows the faith of the other person involved.

The House began as a drop-in center, but the drop-ins had to be limited because of the large number of students who appeared.

The clergymen report that the students and counselors rarely talk religion, but discuss ethical and moral problems. Psychologists have donated time and materials to test some students in need of help.

Symphony Seats Still Available

Tickets are still on sale for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's appearance at Northern Michigan University Tuesday, March 24.

The orchestra will present two performances on Northern's campus, with a matinee program at 3 p.m. for young people in the Upper Peninsula, and an evening adult program at 8:15 p.m. Both performances will be held in Kaye Auditorium.

Tickets for the matinee are $1.50 each, while the evening tickets sell for $3.

the taking of steelhead, brown trout, lake trout, kokanee, coho and chinook salmon, and such other species upon which the season is open.

As of this writing, most streams are still ice-covered.

Success for lake trout has been good in Lake Superior in vicinity of AuTrain Island with fish averaging 3-5 pounds. It involves a 3-4 mile trip to the productive area, however Brook and brown trout fishing on Trout Lake has also been good with fish running nice size. Johnson Lake near Gwinn and Squaw Lake near Republic are producing fair to splake. A two-mile walk is necessary into the latter area.

It is also reported that some fairly large perch are beginning to show up in Upper Bay de Noc where success has not been good.

Air Hearing

A week ago, students at the University of Michigan staged what probably was the first environmental "teach-in" to be given nationwide publicity. On April 22, many of those students will join young people on the campuses of some 900 colleges and 3,000 high schools in a massive demonstration of concern over environmental problems.

This week, some of the same students appeared at the Capitol Park Motel in Lansing where the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission was in session to consider, among other things, a request by the Mead Corp. to build a kraft process mill at the Escanaba Paper Co. The students looked like today's students — long hair, beard and mod clothes — but they came early in the morning and waited until late in the afternoon before getting the opportunity to speak.

And when they spoke, although in some occasions the element of tact seemed to be missing, they made sense and if some members of the commission felt their intelligence insulted by the sense of urgency and outrage conveyed the hope is that they listened. The students are serious, genuinely concerned. And they seem to possess the determination to go along with their youthful exuberance.

The question which might be obvious, of course, is "what business do University of Michigan and Michigan State University students have in testifying against a kraft pulp mill in a community most of them probably have never visited?"

The answer lies in the involvement of the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air, which has actively campaigned against the mill for the past year. Amer Pederson, president of the committee, has held a number of discussions with the leaders of environmental action groups seeking support for the Delta County effort.

To the students the plans of the Mead Corp. represent a new threat to the environment in an area which is relatively free of any air pollution problems so they have seized the issues which have been raised as a specific cause in their overall scheme of things. Ultimately, the students hope to cleanse the world, but meanwhile they don't intend to permit any new pollution threats to complicate the problem.

The logic is idealistic, but in a general sort of way is not too far afield from what the Air Pollution Control Commission is trying to do. The students would ignore any economic considerations, however, while the commission is faced with trying to reconcile the environmental concerns with the other problems of society.

Douglas Scott of Ann Arbor, co-chairman of ENACT at the University of Michigan, explained his position this way:

"No tax increase from Mead is going to compensate for dirty lungs or offense to the nose... why should stockholders of any company be making a profit at the expense of the people... we'll take them to zero profit until all pollution is corrected; then we'll talk about new plants..."

Scott and Benjamin Shane and Michael Freed, two other students who testified on behalf of other environmental action groups, asked some probing questions and made some points to be seriously considered, not only in the Escanaba Paper Co. case but by everyone — including the individual citizen.

Scott urged that present developments be held to future standards. Shane asked "what's the controlling factor in Escanaba, people or production?" in event of an equipment malfunction. Freed queried the commission on the avenues open to the citizen if the pulp mill does present an odor problem.

Some of those same questions were raised by the Save Our Air delegation and perhaps because of this concern, perhaps because of the history of the kraft process or perhaps to save their own necks in event a problem develops the commission is asking its staff to develop some "numbers" to tack into the construction permit for Mead, violation of which could be cause for a shutdown order if continued beyond a "reasonable" length of time without correction.

The "numbers" would represent the normal human threshold for detection of hydrogen sulfide, for example, in parts per million or parts per billion.

If such a stipulation can be written into a construction permit, it will represent a major victory for the Save Our Air Committee which all along has insisted it does not want to stop progress, but only to obtain in advance a written guarantee that if the pulp mill does present an odor problem that the company will cease production until the problem is remedied. If the control equipment is as efficient as the company asserts, then there should be no problem in such stipulations, they say.

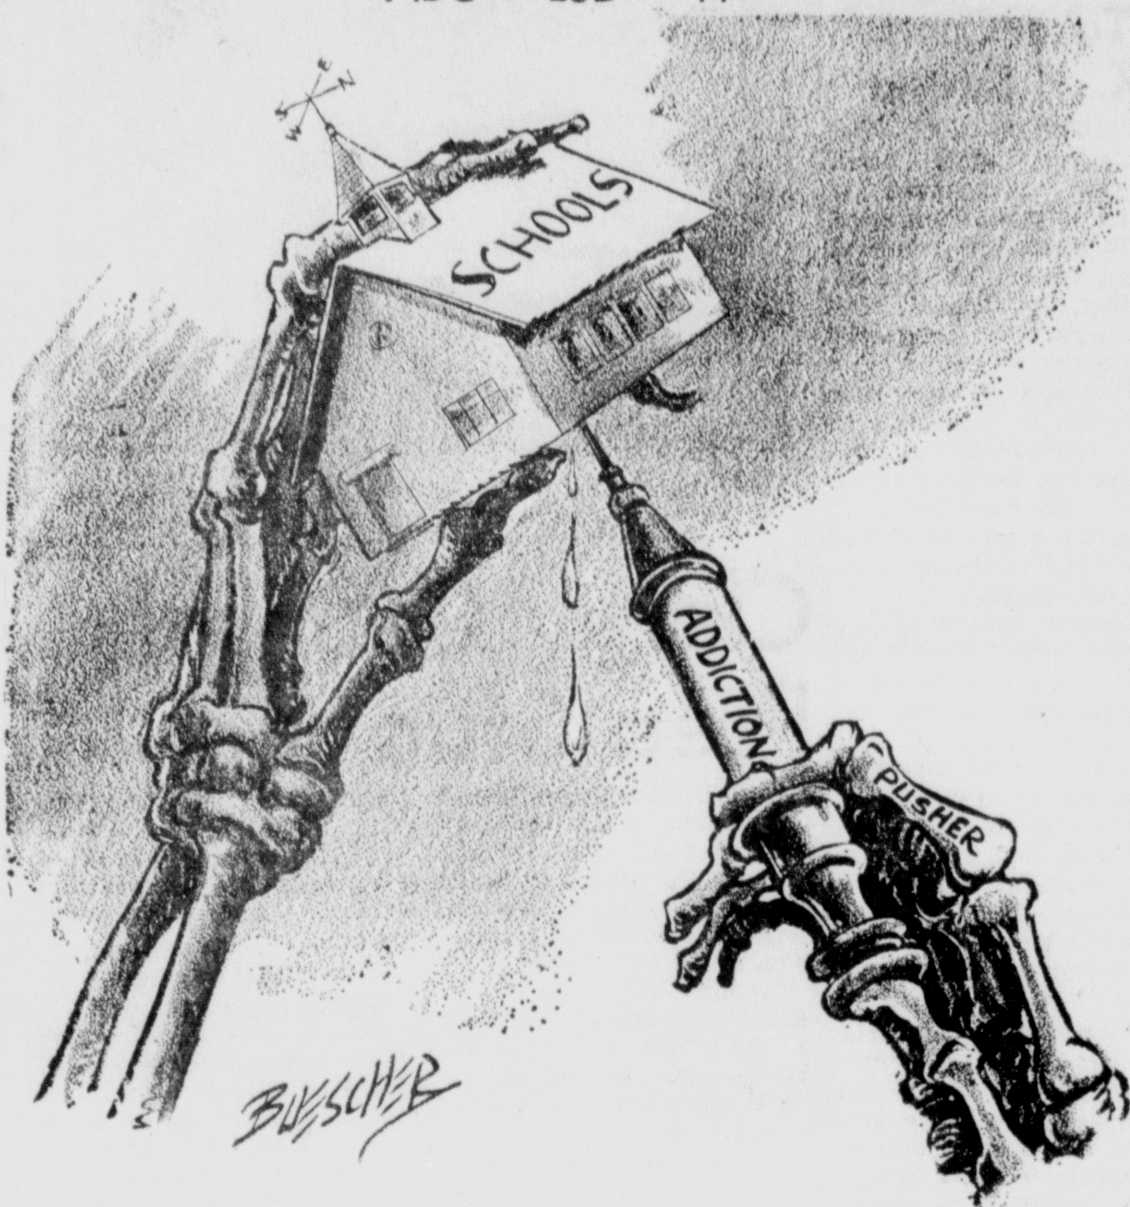

The Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission now appears to be leaning in the same direction, attempting to set up specifics to define in scientific terms what would be considered an odor problem. If their efforts are successful, Mead can get on with its project and the people can rest easier.

St. Gregory's Parochial School of Newberry will close grades one through six as of June, according to Bishop Charles A. Salatk of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette. The current enrollment is 100 students. The Bishop said that his decision follows the impending loss of all Dominican Sisters who have staffed the school, the rising cost of education, the decrease in enrollment, and the disproportionate share of parish funds which would have to be spent on its operation.

Cambodia Seen As Possible Site Of Another Conflict

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 AP Special Correspondent

There are two wars in Indochina now. Suppose, suddenly, there were three?

The possibility of a third war in Cambodia as a result of the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk is enough to scare almost any of the nations involved in the tangled politics of Southeast Asia. Among those who may be frightened is North Vietnam, already showing signs of being overextended in the wars in Laos and Vietnam.

New Dimension?
 A situation which can generate fright about the future can also generate a will to accelerate the search for peace formulas in Laos and Vietnam.

Perhaps the Cambodian coup, for all its inherent dangers, has provided a new dimension in the area. In this respect, Hanoi's reaction to the coup is intriguing. Its spokesman at the Paris talks reflects worry when he accuses the United States of plotting to produce another war in Cambodia.

The words sound defensively defiant. As matters stand, the wars in Vietnam and Laos are extremely costly to Hanoi in terms of manpower, food, consumer goods shortages and probably public morale.

Hanoi Concerned
 Last summer Hanoi was reported willing to halt its Laos offensive if the Laotian premier, Souvanna Phouma, would forbid the Americans to bomb the Ho Chi Minh trail. Hanoi suffers painful losses along the trail by which it supplies its forces and allies in South Vietnam. Souvanna said "no deal" unless all North Vietnamese forces first left Laos' soil. Now Hanoi has a new worry.

Gen. Lon Nol, who deposed Sihanouk, proclaims neutrality but is suspected of being pro-American. Sihanouk espoused neutrality but leaned toward the Communists, possibly less from predilection than from prudence prompted by the proximity of Red China.

Americans Blamed
 Predictably, the Americans were accused of having a finger in the Cambodian coup. The speed with which Washington recognized the new government may reinforce the suspicion. Hanoi, weighing prospects in the light of Cambodia's demand that its troops quit their Cambodian sanctuary, would have to gamble on whether the Americans would give the new Phnom Penh regime significant help in the event of a showdown.

Civil war in Cambodia or widened war in Indochina is likely to benefit nobody except the Red Chinese. Ordinarily, another brush-fire war in the area, to the mortification of the Americans, would delight Moscow, except that Moscow must take China and China's ambitions into consideration. Among those Peking ambitions is an urge to expel the Russians and their influence from Southeast Asia.

Reds Could Help
 In this situation, then, it would seem logical for the Russians to be interested in speeding up a search for settlements in Laos and Vietnam.

It is probably within Soviet power to persuade the North Vietnamese—who could hardly go on without Soviet economic and military help—to consider a give-and-take process which could, for example, involve North Vietnamese de-escalation in Laos in exchange for an end to the bombing of their positions there. One step can lead to another. In Laos a framework exists for political settlement in the 1962 Geneva accords.

The Laos and Vietnamese wars are closely linked. If the danger posed by the Cambodian developments should lead to progress toward settlement in Laos, progress would then be more likely in Vietnam.

Cost Of Living Increase Largest In 20 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs continued rising in February at the swiftest pace in 20 years with big hikes for food, clothing and home mortgage interest making up most of the month's increase, the government said today.

The Labor Department's Consumer Price Index rose five-tenths of one per cent for the month to 132.5, meaning it costs $13.25 for every $10 worth of living costs in the 1957-59 base period.

"Larger than seasonal increases in food and apparel prices and advances in charges for consumer services, particularly home mortgages, accounting for most of the rise," said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The February rise in living costs brought them to a point 6.3 per cent above a year ago, reducing the value of the 1957-59 dollar from 80.3 cents to 75.5 cents.

In February, food prices rose six-tenths of one per cent and were 7.9 per cent above a year earlier. Housing costs were up eight-tenths of one per cent for the month and 7.2 per cent for the year. Clothing rose five-tenths of one per cent in February and was 4.9 per cent above a year earlier.

Recreation costs were up one-tenth of one per cent for the month and 3.7 per cent for the year.

The only major price category to remain unchanged in February was transportation, which was still 4.3 per cent above a year earlier.

"The rise in charges for medical care services accelerated to eight-tenths of one per cent, the sharpest monthly increase in nearly a year, because hospital room rates advanced faster than in recent months," the bureau said.

"Prices of beef, pork and fresh fruits and vegetables were up more than usual in February and were responsible for much of the rise in food prices overall," it said.

Dairy products, which usually drop in February, went up, particularly cheese and fresh milk. There were substantial increases in prices for cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, household supplies and furnishings, the bureau said.

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank and file workers rose $1.06 in February to $117.18. This was $7.07, or 6.4 per cent, above the year earlier. But price increases in the past year more than wiped out all of the wage gains.

However, in manufacturing, the average paycheck dropped

Opening lead—king of clubs. The most interesting hands are those where there is a running battle between the declarer and the defenders, first one side and then the other attempting to score the lethal blow. Consider this deal where both sides poured a maximum amount of effort into the struggle.

West led the king of clubs, on which East played the queen. In accordance with standard convention, East's queen play guaranteed either the jack or no more clubs.

It was not difficult for West to conclude from the bidding that East had the jack rather than a void of clubs. So West shifted to his singleton heart at trick two, planning later to lead a low club to the jack and thus get a heart ruff to defeat the contract.

Declarer realized what West had in mind and made his first good move when he won the heart shift in dummy and played a spade to the ace, deliberately giving up the chance of winning a trump finesse.

He then led the queen of diamonds, finessing against the king, and continued with a diamond to the ten. After discarding a club on the ace of diamonds, declarer played the jack of diamonds and on it discarded his last club.

As a result of this key play, South was now home. West won the diamond with the king but could not put East on lead for the heart ruff. The only other trick West made was the king of spades, and South made exactly four spades.

It is true that West could have defeated the contract by leading a heart at trick one and later underleading his A-K of clubs, but, in fairness to West, it should be said this method of defense is much easier to find when you see all four hands.

Spending Problem Needs Early Probe

Dear Ann Landers: Our teen-age children—one a boy, the other a girl—both have good part-time jobs. We, as parents, are proud of them, but we are sometimes appalled at the things they buy. They insist that so long as they earn the money they can spend it as they please.

Do parents have the right to say, "No, you cannot buy that," when we believe they are using poor judgment? For example: our daughter wants a third coat. She has two coats, both fashionable and in good condition.

We are unable to resolve this problem in our family. Please help us.—Grand Rapids Hassle

Dear Hassle: The rules should have been set down the day your children earned their first dollar. The ideal arrangement is to make it clear that 50 per cent of whatever is earned should be saved. The other 50 per cent can be spent on anything—no questions asked. It's too late to set up such rules after the fact. You may express an opinion to your teen-agers but you cannot forbid them to spend their money on whatever they decide to buy, since this was not agreed upon. Fair is fair.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 34, have a wonderful husband and two children. We have a lovely home, plenty of money and no worries. So what am I writing to Ann Landers about?

I wonder if something is wrong with me. I can't stand to hear about all the trouble in the world. I never turn on the radio or the TV except for entertainment. War news upsets me. Just glancing at the newspaper pictures of all the starving children in Biafra made me sick. If relatives or friends have problems I don't want to hear about them.

My fondest dream is to live alone, miles from friends or family, with a few pets—a cat and a dog, and perhaps a bird and a turtle. Can you describe my problem in a word, Ann Landers?—Reader In Antioch

Dear Reader: Immaturity.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in love with a manufacturer's representative. He is very handsome, seems to be financially well off, and speaks freely of his divorced wife and three children.

Lloyd travels all over the country and comes to this city once every three weeks. He swears he loves me, and I believe him. I am 24. He is 43. Lloyd talks about everything under the sun but marriage. I've suggested that he meet my parents but he is not interested.

Whenever he comes to town we have dinner in his hotel room and talk. I swear nothing immoral has happened but I feel uneasy about going up there. He says I am silly—others high on the list are Bolivia, where there have been threats against the life of U.S. Ambassador Ernest Sracusa, and Santiago, Chile, where the leftist terrorist movement—MIR—reportedly has plans for kidnapping foreign diplomats.

'No Ransom' End Kidnapings In Foreign Nations

American ambassadors in Latin America now have round-the-clock armed police guard, including police in back-up cars when they travel—even to the office. Most have two-way radio contact from their cars and bedside.

Guarding Impossible

But it is impossible to guard all American diplomats. A foreign service officer in La Paz said, "So you guard the ambassador and the DCM—deputy chief of mission."

The officer complained, "If they don't declare a 'no-ransom' policy, the diplomats will withdraw until they and their families live in armed colonies. Then their effectiveness in working with the people of the country will have been destroyed."

Aura Of Debt

Effectiveness is also used in discussing the value of a diplomat after he has been ransomed by a host government. Many foreign service officers feel that whether true or not there is an aura of debt or gratitude on the part of a ransomed diplomat that automatically limits his future work in that country.

For the time being, the policy is "caution." Official Americans and their dependents are more careful about venturing out at night, about visiting public places, and careful to avoid set routines, such as leaving the house each day at the same time.

New Drain System Foiled By Frogs

ESCONDIDO, Calif. (AP) — The city has scrapped plans for part of a new storm drain system, surrendering to a frog pond and kid power.

When small fry of the neighborhood protested the new system would destroy their frog pond and pulled up survey stakes, their parents backed them up and refused to grant the city land for the project.

City engineer John Williamson backed down and lopped three blocks off the proposed project.

"We could have condemned the land, but they are the people who would have benefited by the project," Williamson said. "But that's kid power, I guess."

County Public Works:

New Project Plan Could Save Funds

With the cooperation of the Delta County Board of Commissioners (formerly the County Board of Supervisors) public funds could be saved on essential public works under a state statute that dates back to 1957.

It is Act No. 185 of 1957 as amended, is called the County Public Works Act, and the attention of the County Commissioners (formerly supervisors) has been directed to it several times within the past year.

The importance of the County Public Works Act is again noted by Escanaba City Manager George Harvey in a communication to the City Council recently.

Cities and townships could sponsor public works programs for public water supplies, water treatment, sewage treatment and so forth at less cost if the County Public Works Act were implemented in Delta County. There would be no cost to the county as a unit of government.

Wholesale Basis
"The City of Escanaba would contract to have the county (Delta County) construct the needed facilities and provide service on a wholesale basis," Harvey reports. "This also applies to townships."

"The city (or township) agrees to pay the county over a period of years its share of the cost. Pledged in support of the contractual obligation to make the payments is the full faith and credit of the city."

"The pledge creates the right and duty to provide the necessary funds by the levy of an ad valorem tax. This tax is not within any operating or capital tax limitations imposed by any charter, tax allocation statute or other limitation."

It is not necessary to levy a tax. Funds for payment of the bonds may be derived from water and wastewater rates and other sources.

Continuing, Harvey said in part: "The County, which has agreed to construct the needed improvements and provide the wholesale service, issues its contract bonds in anticipation of the contract payments to be made by the City."

These contract bonds, being supported by unlimited tax obligations to pay, sell at the most advantageous rate. In addition, the County issuing the contract bonds, may pledge its own unlimited tax base in support, making the contract bonds even more attractive.

County Planning
"This method of financing and constructing would render great advantage to Wells, Ford River, Gladstone and all villages or township jurisdictions along any water or sewerage systems constructed. This also assures that rates are kept at a minimum because of the potential of ever-increasing users," Harvey pointed out.

"The well being and public health of the entire county area is promoted by encouraging area development on the basis of a central waste and water supply and/or garbage disposal systems," he added.

This type of financing would open the door for the City of Gladstone, village of Wells, Rapid River, Bark River, Ford River and other points to take advantage of proposed developments, and would encourage and coordinate county planning.

300,000 Throng Visits Expo '70

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — For the first time since Expo '70 opened March 15, more than 300,000 persons thronged the fair grounds in a single day today.

Expo officials, discouraged by the poor attendance for the first week due to inclement weather and perhaps the frequent warnings about possible traffic jams and heavy crowds, had predicted a turnout of 280,000. But the crowd exceeded 300,000 by 2:30 p.m.

Saturday was a national Holiday—spring equinox—with fair weather.

Trial Date June 1 For Black Panther

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The trial of Black Panther chief of staff David Hilliard on a charge of threatening the life of President Nixon has been set for June 1.

U.S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg, who set the trial date Friday, also set next Thursday to hear arguments by the defense for dismissal of the case.

Hilliard is charged with having said, "We will kill Richard Nixon," before 250,000 attending an antiwar rally in Golden Gate Park here last Nov. 15.

His attorneys say they will base his defense on the guarantee of free speech and that his statement in context was within the realm of political rhetoric.

Rapid River Safe 'Cracked'

A breaking window entering of the Johnson Standard station in Rapid River, is under investigation by the State Police of the Gladstone Post.

Police said a safe was forced open and the contents were stolen, which included money, checks, and some valuable papers. Troopers declined to specify the amount of cash taken.

Entrance was made by prying open a rear door to the station, between midnight and 7 a. m. Friday, officers said.

Bert Bacsik, owner of the station, discovered the break-in when he opened the station Friday morning.

Rock Students To Attend Conferences

Christine Mankiewicz and Tim Connors will be representing the Rock School at Girl's and Boy's State, respectively, in June.

Susan Laitinen and Tina Mankiewicz gave short talks at the Rock American Legion Auxiliary meeting Tuesday evening on why they would like to attend Girl's State. The Auxiliary members then voted as to which girl would be chosen to attend. The event is planned, sponsored, and directed by the American Legion Auxiliary. Tina will be attending Girl's State June 14-21 at Ypsilanti, on the campus of Eastern Michigan University. This is the 30th consecutive year of Girl's State.

Tim Connors and Jerry Maki competed for Boy's State trip. Each spoke at the Rock Lions meeting and at the Rock American Legion meeting, co-sponsors for Boy's State trip. Tim Connors was chosen by voting members to represent Rock. He will travel to Michigan State University, East Lansing for the conference in June.

THE EASTER PORTION of Handel's "Messiah," will be presented by a 65-voice community chorus, Palm Sunday, March 22 at the William W. Oliver Auditorium. The performance will begin at 3 p. m. and the public is invited to attend. Featured soloists with the chorus include from left, Wayne Hammer, Arlene Hendrickson, Conrad Beck, Mrs. Philip Lyon and Robert Schrader. A free will offering will be taken to defray expenses. 'New Morality' To Be Discussed At Holy Name

"The New Morality," will be the topic of the Adult Education Program at Holy Name High School on Monday, March 23. The program, to be presented by Sister Catherine William of St. Patrick's Church and Sister Michael Mary of St. Joseph's Church will be divided into three parts.

The first will consist of general comments on the psychological makeup of man as a foundation for man's sense of right and wrong.

A history of morality will be treated in the second part, which will also show the influence of Puritanism on American man's sense of morality.

A dialogue between the two speakers will make up the third part. They will discuss such questions as, "Is the new morality really new?" and situation ethics. Finally, they will present problems in morality for general discussion.

There is no fee and the public is invited. This presentation will conclude the Adult Education Program which consisted of six talks given on Mondays during Lent by the Sisters of the area.

Kangas, Young Receive Berths On Honor Teams

Tom Kangas of the Escanaba Eskimos and Cliff Young of the Gladstone Braves were among players selected on United Press International's All-State basketball teams this week.

Kangas, a 6 foot 4 inch junior center, was named to the Class A first team, while Young received similar honors on the Class B squad. During the 1969-70 campaign, Kangas led the Eskimos in just about every department, scoring 426

Bengals Upend Minnesota 8-6

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Bill Freehan turned a slow start into a fast finish and belted a long 11th-inning triple to push the Detroit Tigers past the Minnesota Twins 8-6 Friday.

That swat made Freehan the second hottest hitting Tiger on the team with a .366 average for the spring even though he walked his other two times at bat. He is just a shade under second-string catcher Jim Price who has .385.

The triple drove in Jim Northrup, who had singled for his third straight hit of the afternoon and was on base. Freehan scored himself when Twin's second baseman Rod Carew threw a wild ball on relay.

Earl Wilson, the Tiger starter, got by without allowing a Twins' score through five innings.

But when Jerry Robertson took over in relief, gave up a bases empty home run to Twin catcher George Mitterwald in the sixth and enabled the Twins to take a 6-5 lead with five more runs in the eighth.

Dalton Jones tied the game in the ninth with a bases-empty homer.

Michigan Star Signs Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Free Press said today it has learned that University of Michigan's standout Rudy Tomjanovich has signed with the National Basketball Association.

The article said the NBA, which had opposed college signings by the American Basketball Association of college players, has signed a contract with Tomjanovich "estimated at $300,000 over several years."

Tomjanovich would be picked up by the NBA team choosing him in the annual draft Monday the Free Press said.

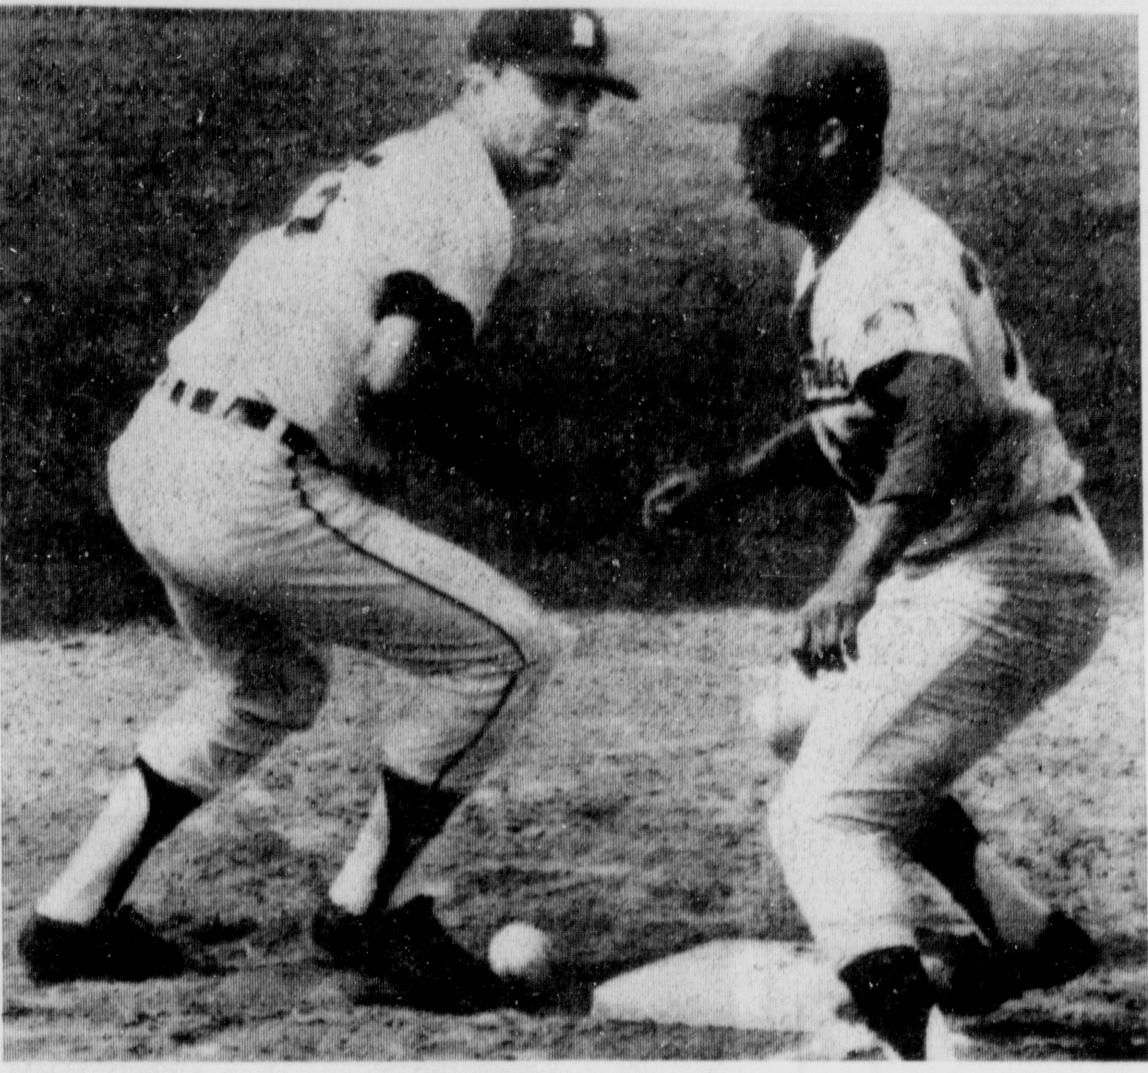

The article also said that St. Bonaventure's All America Bob Lanier "reportedly also has agreed to play in the NBA."

The Detroit Pistons will have the first NBA pick. A club spokesman earlier said the Pistons will probably choose either Lanier or Louisiana State star Pete Maravich. However, the Free Press said that Tomjanovich, who lives in Hamtramck, Mich., would like to play for Detroit and "He could come to the team through a trade after the Pistons have made Lanier their number one selection.

Meanwhile, Michigan State University sophomore sensation, Ralph Simpson, denied published reports Friday that he may sign with the ABA.

NEW STAR — Ann Margret and Joe Namath have announced that they will appear in a new movie, "C. C. Ryder & Company," to be produced by Alan Carr and Roger Smith. The New York Jets quarterback will take to the roads in the film, portraying C. C. Ryder, a motorcycle-riding drifter, who encounters Ann Margret during his travels. (AP Wirephoto)

RUN IS BORN — Detroit Tiger first baseman Norm Cash is watching the ball dribble away and Los Angeles Dodger Maury Wills is cranking up for a run to second base in Thursday's game at Lackland, Florida. Pitcher Mickey Lolich attempted to pick off Wills and triggered the action. Bill Buckner, the next batter, singled to left to send Wills home for the score. (AP Wirephoto)

Bosox Lose Another Star; Maloney Signs With Reds

By The Associated Press

The Boston Red Sox, unbothered by anti-trust suits, gambling probes and holdouts, still lead the major leagues in missing stars.

Ever since the Cinderella American League pennant in 1967, the Red Sox have had health problems losing Jim Lonborg for much of two seasons,

Detroit Domed Stadium Plan Unveiled Friday

DETROIT (AP) — A comprehensive plan for a $94.8 million domed, multiport stadium complex to be built on the downtown Detroit riverfront was unveiled Friday.

The project was drawn up by a 22-member committee after a five-month study of the problems surrounding such a stadium.

The committee told how the land could be acquired and the stadium financed and built. Seating capacity would range from 55,000 to 70,000.

Financing would be handled primarily through the sale of bonds from stadium revenues, and construction would be completed in about 40 months.

In Lansing, Gov. William Milliken said he was "very pleased" with the report. He said the committee responded convincingly to the question of whether a stadium could be built downtown, how it could be financed and when it could be completed.

"I believe that this downtown

Cliffs Ridge Plans Fun Day

MARQUETTE — A day of special events has been planned Sunday, March 22, at the Cliffs Ridge Ski Area.

Inner tube, downhill, slush and other races for young and old have been scheduled as well as a costume contest. These events will be under the direction of the Cliffs Ridge ski instructors in cooperation with the Marquette Ski Club.

A lunch will be served at the event.

Houston Loses Cage Franchise

HOUSTON (AP) — A National Basketball Association franchise died in Houston Friday after gasping for life for 43 days.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy announced Friday in New York that Houston has been dropped from the NBA's expansion plans for the 1970-71 season and that the league will start next season as a 17-club league.

"The simple fact is that Houston could not come up with a necessary payment before college draft next Monday," Kennedy said.

Alan Rothenberg, a Los Angeles attorney who headed a syndicate of Los Angeles and Houston people interested in the franchise, could not come up with the necessary payment of $750,000.

St. Ignace Remains Alive In Cage Play

EAST LANSING (AP) — St. Ignace LaSalle will be the only Upper Peninsula representative left in title games at Jensen Fieldhouse today, as they notched a 76-72 victory over Pontiac Catholic in a Class C semifinal contest Friday.

The Wakefield Cardinals, the only other U. P. team to reach the semifinals, was eliminated in Class D competition yesterday by suffering a 74-64 loss to Flint Holy Redeemer.

In other semifinal games yesterday, Pontiac Central, Michigan's top-rated Class A team, lived up to its billing as a great basketball team, nipping Garden City West by an 84-79 margin; Detroit Pershing downed Midland 89-71; River Rouge had no trouble disposing of Bay City All Saints 82-61; Saginaw Carrollton squeaked by Muskegon Heights 88-86; Muskegon Christian crushed Stockbridge 84-59 and Kipslev edged Camden Frontier 69-63.

Pontiac Central and Pershing will clash for the Class A title tonight, while River Rouge and Carrollton meet in Class B. St. Ignace and Muskegon Christian battle for the Class C crown and Holy Redeemer meets Kingsley in Class D.

Key Basket

Pontiac Catholic pulled to within a point, 72-71, with just 15 seconds left to play, but John McKinnon sank a key basket for St. Ignace to ice the victory. McKinnon finished the game with 13 points, but Leo Donovan outscored everyone with 34, compared with Sam Prady's 30 for Pontiac Catholic.

St. Ignace rated 10th during the season, had upset top-ranked Houghton in the regionals and now has a 21-1 record.

Wakefield got stomped by Holy Redeemer in the fourth quarter of an otherwise tight contest.

Bob Hooks scored 10 of 12 points for Holy Redeemer in that period, as the Flyers outscored the Cardinals 23-8. Tom Martinbiano had 27 points for the winners, while Mike Schweig and Kim Tomczyk each had 15 for Wakefield.

The unrated Cardinals finished the season with a 20-4 mark and the No. 5 ranked Holy Redeemer climbed to 21-2.

Nears Record

The fine scoring eve of Garden City West's Rick Drewitz wasn't enough against Campy Russell and his Pontiac Central teammates. Drewitz pumped in 42 points, one shy of the Class A tourney record set by Ralph Simpson of Pershing, now of Michigan State, in 1967.

Meanwhile, Russell scored 31 for the well-oiled Pontiac quintet which won its 22nd this year without a loss and Garden City West finished 22-1.

A jump shot by Bill Glover put the Chiefs ahead 60-59 with 6½ minutes left in the game and Pontiac Central stayed ahead the rest of the way. They trailed 39-37 at the half and had to fight tooth-and-nail throughout.

Jerry Ratliff added 19 points to the Central attack while Monte Herring and Glover each had 14.

Twelve points by John Rutter was the most scoring support West high gave to Drewitz.

One-Two Punch

Robert Hawkins and Calvin Harper were a one-two punch just too lethal for Midland. Hawkins dumped in 31 points and Harper added 24 in Pershing's romp. The victory further delayed coach Will Robinson's trip to Illinois State University where he has already signed on as head coach. Today's championship game is his last after many years as head coach. He also coached the Doughboys to the state title in 1967.

Midland had five scorers in double figures but the top scorer was Scott Unger with 17 as the Chemies finished the season with an 18-5 record, while Pershing is now 15-4.

In Class B, the two semifinal games were like night and day. Top-ranked Saginaw Carrollton fought neck and neck with No. 2 Muskegon Heights before winning 88-86 in the opener at Michigan State's Jensen Field House.

But in the following game, nine-time state champion River Rouge, the only defending titlist to reach the semis this year, had little trouble crushing Bay City All Saints 82-61.

Start Slow

Coach Lofton Greene's Rouge squad started slowly and led only 17-16 after one quarter. But the Panthers rolled to a 49-30 halftime advantage and it was no contest after that.

Dwayne Johnson, a 240-pound senior who was a master under the boards, scored 25 points for Rouge to lead both teams. Despite a heavily taped knee, Malcolm Moulton was impressive as he added 21.

"Our strong suit has always been rebounds," Greene said afterwards. "And that was the difference today."

The Panthers outrebounded All Saints 76-43.

Pistons Beaten; Win First Pick

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons clinched last place in the National Basketball Association East Division—and the first choice in the NBA draft—Friday night by losing to the Los Angeles Lakers 117-114.

The Pistons have said they will announce their choice—expected to be either St. Bonaventure's Bob Lanier or Louisiana State's Pistol Pete Maravich—at noon Monday.

Jerry West's torrid fourth-quarter shooting gave the Lakers their come-from-behind victory Friday.

West scored 19 of his 34 points in the fourth period as the Lakers overcame an 11-point Piston lead.

Elgin Baylor contributed 27 points for the Lakers. Dave Bing had 33 for Detroit.

The score was tied 108-103 with four minutes to play but West scored six points in 90 seconds for a 111-105 lead and the game was out of reach.

The Lakers outshot the Pistons in the first quarter, racing to a 33-24 lead. But Detroit fought back on Bing's shooting in the second period.

Otto Moore of Detroit and Happy Hairston of the Lakers traded baskets during the last minutes of the first half and the Lakers held a 61-58 halftime edge.

Bing ripped home a handful of buckets as the Pistons caught the Lakers and led 92-81 into the fourth period.

In other NBA action, the Atlanta Hawks sewed up the Western Division championship by beating the New York Knicks 110-102. Phoenix clinched their first playoff berth ever by whipping San Diego 127-104. Milwaukee routed Philadelphia 138-112. San Francisco beat Cincinnati 118-111, and Seattle downed Boston 123-119.

In the American Basketball Association, Washington shaded Dallas 157-155. Carolina beat Kentucky 113-106. Indiana downed Pittsburgh 119-114, and Los Angeles shaded New Orleans 91-88.

Atlanta whipped the Knicks behind a 38-point performance by Lou Hudson.

When Hudson made his 25th point against the Knicks he became the first Hawk player in six years to top the 2,000-point mark for the season. Cazzie Russell with 21 led the Knicks who couldn't get closer than seven points at 77-70 in the third quarter.

Connie Hawkins, with 29 points, and Gail Goodrich with 27, paced Phoenix over San Diego as the Suns clinched their playoff spot.

Jack Marin scored 34 points and Earl Monroe 26 for Baltimore as the Bullets kept Chicago from clinching third place. Chet Walker led the Bulls with 25.

Low Alcindor threw in 41 points and grabbed 15 rebounds as Milwaukee trounced the 76ers for their 56th victory in the regular NBA season that ends Sunday.

Jerry Lucas' 31 points and 25 rebounds paced San Francisco over Cincinnati while Jerry West tallied 34 to pace Los Angeles over Detroit. Dave Bing hit 33 for the Pistons.

Clutch baskets by Len Wilkens and Bob Rule pulled Seattle past Boston after the Super-Sopics nearly blew a 24-point lead.

The oldest Michigan State varsity swimming record still on the books belongs to Billy Steuart. He negotiated 1,500 meters in 18:26.2 in 1959.

Trevino Likes Blustery Winds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Blustery winds sweeping across the Hidden Hills Country Club had a lot to do with second-round play in the Greater Jacksonville Open, and Lee Trevino was perfectly happy with the results.

"Let the winds blow," he said after soaring to a tie for the lead with Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va.

"The more it blows, the more I feel like I'm home in El Paso."

As Mitchell and Trevino settled into their tie with seven-under par 137s, other golfers were cursing the breezes that sent shots flying right and left of the narrow fairways.

Trevino negotiated the 6,943-yard course five strokes below par at 67.

"I've been on four regularly for a couple years, so I've kind of lost that El Paso low ball," said the colorful National Open champion of 1968. "But I still feel comfortable in the wind."

Mitchell took his share of first place on a spectacular eagle on the 440-yard sixth hole, tacking a 68 to his opening day 69.

"There were about 60 people around the green and when they started shouting, I just dropped my 8 iron to the ground and joined in," he said.

The 30-year-old Trevino and 27-year-old Mitchell took a one-stroke lead over Dale Douglass of Denver into today's third round.

Douglass, 34, missed a 10-foot putt on the 18th green that would have tied him for the lead. But he was satisfied with his second straight 69 in what he called "a very difficult wind."

Two strokes behind Douglass were home par Dan Sikes and veteran Don Bies of Seattle at 140.

Ron Cerrudo, the mod young Californian who shared the first round lead with 68, slipped to 73 and was tied with six others at 141.

A trim Jack Nicklaus was one of them, but the others of the fading "Big Three" blew out of contention.

Arnold Palmer shot 77 for a 147 total and it was his second bad experience of the day. A partially constructed Jacksonville apartment development in which he is co-owner had an early morning $35,000 fire loss.

Gary Player soared to a 79 and missed the cut with a half-way total of 151.

A benefit teen dance tonight kicks off the weekend activities of the CBC Drive with the second annual Palm Sunday radiothon capping the events the following day.

The dance will be held in the new gym of the high school from 8 to 11 p.m. and will be broadcast live by WTQI Radio. L. David Vaughan will be disc jockey. Proceeds from the 50-cent per person admission will go to the fund. The Jaycees will perform chaperoning duties.

Sunday's radiothon will begin at 11 a.m. from the St. Francis Parish Center and continue until at least 9 p.m. A special telephone has been installed and listeners may call in their pledges to 341-2153.

It is expected the parish center will again be a hub of activity as visitors drop in to watch the talent perform, bid on various articles donated to an auction, and stop at the concession stand operated by the Manistique Women's Club and the Hospital Auxiliary, under the direction of Don Martin.

3 Conservation Bills Reported Out Of Committee

LANSING (AP)—Three Senate bills relating to conservation, one to increase the amount of aid to the deer herd, have been reported out by the Senate Conservation Committee.

All were introduced by Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon. Bouwsma and Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, a co-sponsor of the measure, propose establishing a fund for improving and maintaining deer habitat.

The bill would set aside $1 of each $5 deer license for the purpose.

Currently, the deer habitat program receives only some $100,000 a year. The sponsors estimate the measure would raise this sum to $600,000 a year.

The proposal was sent to the Senate Appropriations Committee for further study.

Another measure would stiffen the penalty for vandalism at state parks, recreation areas and similar state lands.

A third bill would limit discharges of water from flowing wells and is designed to conserve artesian water pressures.

Oil Firm Leaves Building To City

NEODESHA, Kan. (AP)—The American Oil Co. is giving the city of Neodesha most of the 73-year-old refinery it is closing April 1—a gift valued Friday by Mayor Ernest Wilson at $2 million.

The gift includes 400 acres of land which the city can use to attract new industry.

The refinery power plant is a big item, the mayor said, estimating that it will take care of the city for the next 15 years.

"We will not have to buy new equipment to satisfy the increasing use of electricity," Wilson said. "We plan to use the generating plant at the refinery as our primary source of energy."

The company is closing the refinery because it is not profitable.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Thursday were Linda Syers and Loretta Jaynes. Discharged were Fred Price, Vivian Snellenberger, Antoine Martin, Juanita Johnson, Jackie Stamper and Betty Wayne.

Births

SYERS—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Syers, Manistique, are the parents of a daughter born Thursday, March 19, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed nine pounds and two ounces. Mrs. Syers is the former Linda Rice.

GLADSTONE

Students Gain Forensics Final

The Gladstone High School Forensics team will send six individual students and one group to the regional tournament in Marquette April 17-18 as a result of winning superior ratings at the district tournament in Escanaba.

Winners and the catagories in which they participated are: dramatic monolog — Richard Salo; dramatic dialog — Sue Hoehn and Ruthann Martin; humorous interpretive reading — Linda Norlander and John Skelenger; radio news broadcasting — Jim Davis.

The Gladstone multiple reading group, reading from Bel Kaufman's "Up the Down Staircase", includes Sue Hoehn, Jan Hess, Sue Labre, Cliff Barron, Richard Salo, Kerry Strom, Jim Davis, Lori Isaacson, and Cindy Damitz.

Forensics director Steve Mitchell was pleased that seven of the 10 Gladstone entrants are advancing to the regional tournament. Five of the students are in their first year in forensics activities, Mitchell said.

Urban Renewal To Be Reviewed By Commission

The City Commission will continue its discussion on urban renewal when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the City Hall.

A letter from the Teamsters Union regarding the proposed affiliation of city employees. Communications from the Gladstone Golf Club and the Bureau of the Census, along with a report from the engineers on the sewage plant and a contract change at the water treatment plant will be discussed.

Briefly Told

Karen Sauve, 21, of 733 10th Ave., Menominee, suffered minor injuries, Friday afternoon when the car she was driving skidded in the snow on highway M-35, and overturned in the snowbank. No tickets were issued, State Police said.

Mother's March Slated Monday Throughout City

The local Mother's March against Birth Defects will be held in Gladstone Monday evening.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Milburn Noland and Mrs. Marven Larsen are asking all residents who wish to donate to this expanded March of Dimes program to turn on their porch lights Monday night to make it easier for volunteer workers throughout the city.

Volunteer workers will turn in their collections at the Milburn Noland home, 716 Dakota Ave., and coffee will be served after 8 p. m. Monday.

State Troopers On Business End Of Officer's Gun

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two plainclothes State Police detectives were held at bay briefly Thursday night by a suburban Wyoming police officer who saw them holding a shotgun on a man sought in a March 4 slaying.

Detectives John Karsen and Lewis Smith of the South Haven State Police Post went to Grand Rapids with a murder warrant naming John W. Neal, 30, of Benton Harbor.

They said Neal was sought in connection with the death of L.V. Taylor, 23, of Benton Harbor, who was shot, then dumped from a moving car on the Blue Star Highway just north of the Berrien County line March 4.

The two detectives said they spotted Neal getting into a car with another man on the city's southeast side.

They followed the auto to the southbound U.S. 131 freeway interchange in Hall Street, and when a chase developed fired one shotgun shell of buckshot. The buckshot struck the rear of the car, forcing it into another auto which was stopped for a red light.

The two detectives left their own unmarked car and were moving in to make the arrest when Wyoming Patrolman James Emaus, cruising on U.S. 131, spotted them with the shotgun. He stopped and held the two detectives at gunpoint until they identified themselves.

Foresees VC In Control Of Asia Within Five Years

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., says North Vietnamese might control Cambodia, Laos and South Vietnam within five years.

He said Prince Norodom Sihanouk, ousted premier of Cambodia, is in Peking and "will try to persuade the Communists to give him some troops to reconquer his country."

Failing that, Symington said Friday night, Sihanouk probably will turn to Hanoi for help.

"It's an incredible war," Symington said in a Jackson Day speech. "You almost despair at times."

Bomb Scare Ends Musical Concert

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—A bomb scare forced evacuation of an estimated 3,500 people who had turned out Thursday night for a concert by the Letterman singing group in Finch Fieldhouse at Central Michigan University.

At 10 p.m. the university's security office received a telephone call from a male who said a bomb would go off 15 minutes later in the fieldhouse. The concert was stopped, the building was evacuated and searched and no bomb was found.

It was the third bomb scare this week at CMU. All proved false.

25,000 ONES — Mrs. Nan Robb of Huachuca City, Ariz., looks understandably gleeful as she holds her 25,000 dollars, grand prize in the Pillsbury Bakeoff in San Diego, Calif. Her yeast onion bread did it.

Bills Approved By State House

LANSING (AP) — A package of bills aimed at curbing vehicle exhaust pollution, German measles and head injuries to motorcyclists was passed by the Michigan House Friday and sent to the Senate.

One adopted bill, sponsored by Rep. David Serotkin, R-Mount Clemens, would make it a misdemeanor to drive a vehicle with an anti air pollution device deliberately not connected and working.

Opposition to the bill came from Rep. Joyce Symons, D-Alpen Park, who protested that "points" might be assessed against a driver's license through processing of a traffic ticket.

The amended version of the bill stipulates that points would not be assessed against a driver's license and the offense would not be classed as a "moving violation."

The bill is aimed at owners of so-called "muscle" cars who deliberately disconnect the device to increase engine performance.

Another limitation of the bill requires proof that the driver "knowingly" failed to maintain the filtering device. Opponents contended most drivers wouldn't know it (divice) if they saw it and, thus, could not make sure it would be always working.

The House also passed, 80-0, a bill calling for automatic immunization of preschool children against rubella, popularly known as "german measles," unless parents specifically and formally object.

The program, widely promoted by the State Public Health Department, is aimed at protecting pregnant women from the disease. Deformed children may be born if the mother contracts the disease early in pregnancy.

A third bill passed Friday duplicates House action last year requiring motorcyclists to wear helmets. Because of a built-in repeal date.

"We've got them wearing helmets on their heads now," said Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Pontiac, a motorcycle buff himself. "But we've got to keep them there."

The House also approved a Senate passed bill empowering Grand Valley State College at Allendale to borrow funds at a special, reduced interest rate established by the U.S. Department of Health, education and Welfare.

Qualifications Of Lenore Face Rival's Quizzing

MIDLAND (AP)—Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, Lenore Romney's only Republican opponent for nomination for the U.S. Senate, questioned her qualifications in a talk at Midland this week.

"The issue of qualifications in the U.S. Senate campaign cannot be ignored," said Huber, a leader of the conservative wing in the State Senate.

Huber declared he had no interest in fighting a personal campaign against any opponent. Then he became rather personal in talking about the wife of former Gov. George Romney, the GOP consensus choice to run against Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

"My brother is a very capable brain surgeon," Huber said. "He is married to a very bright, articulate trained nurse. Yet I doubt very much if any patient would want my brother's wife to perform surgery on him."

"Those who speak through the voices and minds of others," Huber continued, "or who do not speak out at all, deserve to be defeated."

Huber cited his record of 16 years in city, county and state government. Mrs. Romney never has held political or appointive office.

The Great Man Came

The crowd had been gathering for hours. From every corner of the town they came—from tall white houses on the hill and cramped row houses by the mill. There were bankers and housewives, students and salesmen, grandmas and grocers, all drawn by a common hunger to hear the word of God.

And then the great man came. He stood before a microphone, and his words spread over the gathering like a benediction. Suddenly, the shadow of a bygone day spread massively from another crowd, another place, to those gathered here. A thousand differences were reconciled, as the congregation found a common bond under the spell of Good Friday, when God gave His Son in a wondrous gift of love.

So, in these troubled times, as crowds gather all over the world—sometimes with hate in their hearts—let us pledge our time and talents to our churches as they teach the brotherhood of men through the fatherhood of God.
